UiPath Process Mining takes the digital footprints left behind in your enterprise systems and applications, to show you how your business processes really run.

Benefits

The only Process Mining solution that enables organizations to seamlessly discover, automate and monitor complex, end-to-end business processes.

- Jumpstart Process Mining with 60+ Connectors for common processes and systems
- Turn discovered insights into action with UiPath’s best-in-class RPA technology
- Quickly gain full visibility into complex business processes
- Continuously monitor processes and understand impact of improvements on your KPIs

Turn process complexity into process opportunity

Discover automatable work hidden in your business processes
By leveraging existing data left behind in systems like SAP, Oracle and Salesforce, Process Mining provides you with full transparency into your business processes and how they are executed.

Take an holistic approach to automation
Quickly identify what’s slowing the process down, such as bottlenecks, rework, and inefficiency, and understand how to optimize them with automation.

With the complete picture, you’ll know what to automate, what to improve, and how to do it.
Seamlessly turn insights into action

Directly send automation ideas discovered in Process Mining to the UiPath Automation Hub, where all accumulated knowledge from people, desktops and systems is integrated and prioritized based on the impact the automation has on the organization.

Continuously monitor processes and proactively keep them on track

Track the impact automation has on your processes and key KPIs.

Intervene using intelligence from Process Mining to trigger UiPath Robots to handle idle tasks, or alert people in the UiPath Action Center whenever exception handling is required.
