

UiPath Sub-processors

UiPath uses sub-processors for performing its business operations. All sub-processors used by UiPath need to comply with applicable privacy laws and are bound by confidentiality and security obligations.

The list of Sub-processors bellow is not an exhaustive list of all UiPath sub-processors but is the list of sub-processors relevant for our customers. Most of the Sub-processors bellow only process business related information and are used by UiPath for customer and contract management purposes or for marketing purposes.

Please check UiPath's Privacy Policy for more information about the sub-processors we use when you interact with UiPath through the products and services available on the website.

For our customers using UiPath Cloud Platform, Microsoft Azure is the sub-processor used for processing customer data used with the Platform.
